An Overwhelming Speech by a Widow.

The Hon. George N. Briggs, ex-Governor of Massachusetts, delivered a temperance address some time since, in the course of which he related the following anecdote with thrilling effect:—

Mr. Briggs said this question of the introduction of intoxicating drinks assumed somewhat of a practical form last Spring, in a thriving borough in Pennsylvania. The inhabitants had assembled, as was their usual custom, to decide what number, if any, of licenses the town should petition from the County Court, from whence they were issued. There was a full attendance. One of the most respectable magistrates of the borough presided, and upon the platform were seated among others, the clergyman of the village, one of his deacons, and the physician.

After the meeting had been called to order, one of the most respectable citizens of the borough rose, and after a short speech, moved that the meeting adjourn for the usual number of hours. They had better license "good men and let them sell." The proposition seemed to meet with almost universal favor. It was an excellent way to get along quietly, and one and then another in their turn expressed their hope that such a course would be adopted.

The President was about to put the question to the meeting when an object rose in a distant part of the building, and all eyes were instantly turned in that direction. It was an old woman, poorly clad, and whose careworn countenance was the painful index of her suffering. And yet there was something in the flush of the bright eye that told she had once been what she was not. She addressed the President, and said, with his permission, she wished to say a few words to the meeting. She had come because she had heard that they were to decide the license question.

"You," said she, "all know who I am. You once knew me; the mistress of one of the best estates in the borough. I once had a husband and five sons; and woman never had a kinder husband—mother never had five better or more affectionate sons. But where are they now? Doctor, I ask where are they now? In yonder burying ground there are six graves filled by that husband and those five sons, and oh! they are all drunkard's graves. Doctor, how came they to be drunkards? You would come and drink with them, and you told them that temperate drinking would do them good. And you, too, Sir, addressing the clergyman, would come and drink with my husband; and my sons thought they could drink with safety, because they saw you drink. Deacon, you sold them rum which made them drunkards. You have now got my farm and all my property, and you got it all by rum. And now," she said, "I have done my errand. I go back to the poor-house, for that is my house. You, reverend Sir, you, Doctor, and you, Deacon, I shall never meet you again, until I meet you at the bar of God, where you too will meet my ruined and lost husband and those five sons, who, through your means and influence, fill the drunkard's grave."

The old woman sat down. Perfect silence prevailed, until broken by the President, who rose to put the question to the meeting; shall we petition the court to issue licenses to this borough the ensuing year? and then one unbroken "No!"—which made the very walls re-echo with the sound, told the result of the old woman's appeal.

WONDERFUL GROWTH OF KANSAS CITIES.—A Kansas Correspondent of the Boston Traveller says in allusion to the rapid growth of Kansas:—

"The growth of Western Cities has always been quoted as something marvellous; this one of Leavenworth will not fail to be the most marvellous account of progress. Less than four years ago a building was to be seen on the spot where now reside eight thousand people. In the space of three years and a half it has grown up to its present proportion, and is still increasing rapidly. Two daily papers and three weeklies are published in this city. The various printing offices are overburdened with job work, and business generally is prosperous. In addition to the progress in the news-paper interest, the citizens are preparing for the introduction of water in their city, and also intend getting a gas company. A great deal of activity is manifested, arising from the preparations being made for the Expedition."

THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 16, 1858.

FOR SENATOR,
ROBERT B. CRANSTON.

REPUBLICAN MEETING LAST NIGHT.

At a meeting of the Republican electors, at the State House, last evening—a City Executive Committee of two from each ward was appointed, viz.:—

1. Meah W. Spencer, Jeremiah Brown.
2. Philip Caswell, Jr., John D. Donist.
3. Samuel T. Hopkins, James W. Lyon.
4. Robert R. Carr, Henry N. Ward.
5. Clarke H. Burdick, Silas H. Coltritt.

The Committee had power to fill vacancies.

ROBERT B. CRANSTON was then unanimously nominated for Senator—and after a resolution to the effect that all honorable means should be used by every Republican to secure his election, the meeting adjourned.

The Lecompton Folly.

That the House of Representatives should have deliberately voted, by 110 to 111, to adhere to the Crittenden amendment of the Kansas Bill, is better than we expected,—and, but for the chance which still remains, of some wretched compromise, by which the good fruits of the victory may all be frittered away, would seem to cast an ominous doubt on the verity of Senator Hammond's proclamation of the supremacy of "King Colton." The majority, on this vote to adhere, it will be observed, was precisely the same as that by which the amendment had been previously adopted; and though small, being barely eight on a poll of 230 members, it is still large enough to indicate to the President and his advisers, not only the popular will on this subject, but the very uncomfortable predicament in which blind and profligate rulers sometimes find themselves.

We should be glad to know that this is a final conclusion of the insane and stupid of fort to thrust a Slavery Constitution upon the protesting people of Kansas. We should like to see the federal administration, now that it has been baffled and foored in its folly, have the grace and decency to confess judgment and yield the point. We should like to see the Northern presses that have behaved so badly, and economized the truth so hugely on this question, not only admit that they have been handsomely whipped, but that no culprits ever more richly deserved a whipping:—

And, finally, wouldn't it be pleasant to see the political party which lent itself with such eagerness and persistency to the perpetration of this most glaring outrage upon a free people,—would it not be delightful, we say, to see this political party make a due and public confession of its gross wrong-doing in this matter, its hearty and deep contention for the same, and its crimson shame for the disgrace it has thereby brought upon the once honored name of Democracy?

It will be, we fear, a long time before these confessions will be all made—but meantime, the essential facts of the case—the wrong, the outrage, the folly, the inconsistency, which would make such concessions the most proper and reasonable thing in the world—these facts, we repeat, are well and widely known—they are manifest "before Israel and the sun."

WASHINGTON, Monday, April 12th, 1858.

The Lecompton Constitution is now considered rejected by Congress, and it is said that Senator Douglas intends to call up, this week, a Bill that he introduced in the early part of the session, initiatory of an enabling act. It is also intimated in Senatorial Circles that the Bill will be voted down, on the ground that such an act would be unnecessary and superfluous, the people of Kansas already having the right and ability to form a Constitution and apply for admission whenever they see fit to.

Sealed proposals are now invited, until noon of the 10th of May, proximo, for the issue of any part or the whole of five million dollars in Treasury Notes in exchange for gold coin of the United States to be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States, the Treasurer of the Mint at Philadelphia, or the Branch Mint at New Orleans, or the assistant treasurer at Boston, New York, Charleston, or St. Louis, within ten days after the acceptance of such proposals. The Proposals to state the rate of interest, (not exceeding six per centum per annum,) without reference to other bids, and to contain no other fractional rates than one fourth, one half, or three fourths of one per cent—and one per cent as security for the payment of the principal amount proposed to be exchanged, to be deposited with one of the officers above mentioned, (whose certificate of deposit must accompany the proposal,) as security for the payment of the principal amount proposed to be exchanged.

This proposal is to be submitted to the Board of Directors of the Bank of America, preparing for the introduction of water in their city, and also intend getting a gas company. A great deal of activity is manifested, arising from the preparations being made for the Expedition.

John J. Speed, and T. P. Shaffner, proposing to establish such communication by erecting a line from the Western terminus of the Missouri River line to Utah. The Committee on Military Affairs and the Secretary of War both strongly recommend the measure. The memorialists propose to connect Washington City with the Utah expedition within one hundred days after the ground is broken; and it is argued that if the causes should cease to exist for a military use of the wires, they would be of incalculable benefit to the country in a civil point of view.

Funeral services are to be performed at the late residence of Col. Benten at 2 o'clock to-day, immediately after which his remains, together with that of his infant grandson, McDowell Jones, who died yesterday morning, will be forwarded to St. Louis, to be interred in the family burial place there.

LOCAL NEWS.

THE RHODE ISLAND SCHOOLMASTER for April, has been received from its enterprising Publisher, Mr. Mowry. Its contents are varied and interesting and admirably adapted to suit the taste of its many readers. The Schoolmaster is evidently sailing now "under flying colors." May its shadow never be less.

Our readers will observe by the advertisement of Gov. Lawton, in another column, that he is now ready to collect the assessment which is payable to the Providence Mutual Fire Insurance Company, and that he will continue to attend to this matter up to the 15th of May.

Religious Crisis in Newport.

NO. IV.
The rain is over now and gone, for lo! the winter's past.
The time of singing birds is come, the flowers bloom at last.
Since Newport has become a fashionable watering place, many temptations have been thrown around our people to tempt them away from the simplicity of the faith as it is in Jesus. Every season a broad wave of worldliness and folly sweeps over our island, which is most disastrous to the religious interests of this community. And is not the residuum of sin that is left among us, as palpable to our senses, as the weeds that are deposited upon our shores by the retiring waves of the stormy Ocean?

10,000 Shares, amounting to 10,000 acres.

Certificates of the above Shares, have been enclosed in 10,000 envelopes, exactly alike, and sealed, which, after being well mixed up, have been numbered on the outside from 1 to 10,000 inclusive, so that no one knows the contents of any particular envelope. They will be sold at $10 each, with our reference to what they contain, and to any one making application. Unexceptionable Titles will in all cases be given.

The largest Farm, containing a Gold Mine, is valued at $30,000, and the smallest sized Building Lots have been selling at $10 each.

Hundreds have already been sold upon these terms. Whilst all stand the same chance of getting the status, every purchaser is guaranteed one of these lots at least.

Every other purchaser is bound to get one of at least double its size and value. Every fourth purchaser one of at least quadruple its size and value.

Whilst every tenth purchaser will get a Farm ranging in value from $250 up to $30,000. These Farms and Lots are sold so cheap to induce settlers, a sufficient number being reserved, the increase in the value of which will compensate for the present sacrifice.

The net proceeds are to be applied to local improvements, such as Schools, Factories, Mills, &c. Any number of Shares can be taken by individuals, to secure a Farm at least ten shares. The certificates can be obtained by writing one-half, and the Deeds by paying the other half.

17,000 Acres of Land, in large or small tracts, can also be had at private sale, and upon the most reasonable terms. Some of it highly improved. Agents are wanted Everywhere to Sell These Lands. Liberal documents will be given. For full particulars, apply to R. BAUDER,

46-2d Port Royal, Caroline Co. Va.

I have used Prof. D. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admited its wonderful effects.

My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative, it has resumed its original color, and become beautiful and glossy, upon, and entirely over the head; so continued to use it, not simply, because of its beautifying effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore, my Advertisers and Doubts in reference to its character and value are entirely removed; and I can, and do most confidently and confidently recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray (by reason of sickness or age,) to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have their hair beautiful and glossy.

Very truly and gratefully yours,

SOLOMON MANN.

ANN Harbor, November 5, 1856.

PROF. D. J. WOOD.—Dear Sir: I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having seen so often cheated by quack nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I wished but would have it removed, or troubled with crocrosis, scald head, or other eruptions, but what would be cured, or with such head ache, (neuralgia) would be cured? It will also remove all pinches from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this. See circular and the following:

R. H. STANTON.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. Ayer's CAHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which we have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the functions of life and vigor—health courses new through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint; see his fainting, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in gout; till his skin is covered with sores; who stumbles, or lies, or lies in anguish. He has been dredged up inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give them to him, whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he stretches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with fevers and aches; give him these pills to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these disorders, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sore Eyes, Heartburn, Post Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the bowels, Flatulence, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of hell—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box, 5 boxes for $1. 250—$1. 50—$1. 75.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practitioner, and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass., and sold by all Druggists everywhere.
